

AGGRESSIVE

You are a warrior who is eager for battle. When rolling initiative, add your proficiency bonus to the roll. In addition, during the first round of combat, you may move an additional distance equal to your movement and do an additional 1d6 damage on the first attack you hit.

RIDER

It only takes you 5 feet of movement to mount or dismount a creature. You can ride creatures that are not trained to be mounts, as long as they are willing, strong enough, and large enough. Your reach is increased by 5 feet when riding a mounted creature.
